

LEAVING SOON?

Transition support could help you when you get out.

Fast Facts

- The POST study is free
- You can earn up to $170 or more by participating
- All study information is confidential
- We will work around your schedule
- You can try out the program first, and change your mind later

Who is this study for?

Young people ages 15-25 who are about to leave Juvenile Rehabilitation (JR).

What would I do?

Meet with a Support Coach and take 3 surveys. With your Support Coach, you could work on things like finding a job, finding housing, improving relationships, problem-solving, and more.

Why would I do this?

You could earn up to $170 or more.

We will work around your schedule and you will be in control of what you talk about in your sessions.

When would I start/end?

Start: 2-3 months before you get out

End: 2-3 months after you get out

What kind of study is it?

A study testing 2 types of support programs for before and after you get out. Both programs include education about substance use prevention. It is open to people with or without a history of substance use.

How is this related to JR and DCYF?

While staff at JR facilities are coordinating with our team for logistics (for example, scheduling phone calls), the study itself is separate from JR. Information from surveys and sessions is not shared with JR or DCYF.
